WHY DON'T YOU GET SOMEONE INTERESTING?
YOU'RE RIGHT... THERE. RIGHT?

CARTOON NOTES

Ladies and Gentlemen, boys and girls, this will be the last CARTOON NETWORK STARRING. I know what you're thinking: "How will I read another Cow & Chicken story?" or "Where will I ever be able to get more of Johnny's Tips?"

Fear not, because we have the answer: the all-new, all-different CARTOON CARTOONS. It will feature Cow & Chicken, I.M. Weasel, Johnny Bravo, Sheep in the Big City, Courage the Cowardly Dog, and Ed, Edd 'n Eddy.

But wait, what about Space Ghost? Everyone's favorite superhero talk show host (along with Zorak, Brak, Moltar and all the others) will be featured in a "Space Ghost: Coast to Coast" issue every three months. No, no need to thank us—the smile on your face is enough.

—Harvey Richards

THOMAS J NUDI
VIA THE INTERNET

Dear DC:

I really like your Cartoon Network comics, but I was wondering if you were ever going to make Ed, Edd 'n Eddy comics.

There'll be an 8-page Ed, Edd 'n Eddy story next month to kick off CARTOON CARTOONS #1.

MATT SHIREMAN
MINNETONKA, MN

Dear Editor:

CARTOON NETWORK STARRING is better than I originally thought it was going to be. The two comics that the POWERPUFF GIRLS starred in were swell.

I love Cow & Chicken, and the comics with I.M. Weasel and I.R. Baboon have been awesome. I find Johnny Bravo repulsive, and you always know what he's going to do; however, his comics have been somewhat appealing to me. Before CARTOON NETWORK STARRING began, I had never seen Space Ghost. The comics Space Ghost have been in have lots of jokes that are so stupid, they're funny. I think that you should fill up the #4 spot on the rotation again with the classic Hanna-Barbera anthropomorphic comics (like Cartoon-All Stars). I have seen many people wish for this as well, so I know that I'm not alone. At the very least, you could fill it with Ed, Edd 'n Eddy; Courage the Cowardly Dog or Mike, Lu & Og.

You read our minds, Matt. You should start up a Psychic Hotline or at least give us the next Lotto numbers!

ASHLEY ROSENBLATT
VIA THE INTERNET

Dear Zorak:

Yo Mantis Man! Wassup, dude? Just checking the scoop on things, ya dig? I love it when you annoy Space Ghost. It makes me laugh so hard that I fall on the floor! And, well, Brak kind of makes me laugh that hard, too.

I also want to know if you're related to Lokar cuz you two are so much alike! Well, for one thing, you both are funny and have similar personalities, including your cool musical talents! And why did you call yourself a locust when you didn't know whether or not you were a mantis? And you know what? My pet bird, Frances, has the same personality as you do! 'Cause he's mean all the time but is nice when he wants to be.

Oh, and one last question: how many marbles did Space Ghost lose? Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha! And how many times did Space Ghost's mother drop him on his head? Maybe she did that to him to see how hard his head was. Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha! Well, smell you later, dude.

Guess to Cartoon Network one bug is pretty much like any other. All (or at least many) of Zorak's relatives are long gone. Let's just say he had them over for dinner.

Space Ghost has been dropped on his head more times than he can count—literally. Which explains why he seems to have lost all of his marbles.
